Corporations, not-for-profits, and government agencies hire Langopoly™ for customized language instruction programs.

Benefits

Increased profitability. Your employees or membership develop an ability to communicate with an increasingly diverse and global population, thereby improving your organization's operation and ultimately positioning you to grow your market share, revenues, and profits.

Effective and diverse communication skills. Participants benefit by not only developing their communication skills for formal, professional settings but also for more informal situations, which is often where relationships are formed.

Improved public relations image. Your company, association, or organization's membership benefit from an improved public relations image as a result of this proactive step to embrace cross-cultural communication and diversity within your organization.

Getting started with Langopoly™ is easy. You tell us your learning goals. We'll work with you to create a customized language program for your employees or membership conveniently located at your office.

We offer private language instruction at your location or ours.

We also offer group Spanish language classes that are open to the public.

Just think of the possibilities as you...

Accelerate your career growth by learning a second language

Enhance your vacation or business travel by learning to speak the basics, like how to get a taxi or order from the dinner menu

Rediscover the world by communicating with people from many cultures

Grow your business by expanding the scope and scale of your customer base

We provide Spanish language instruction services to children who want to improve their grades in school or children who want to learn Spanish for fun and personal development.

Our private instruction for children is divided into four categories:

Language Tutors

We have patient and caring language tutors to help students in grade school, middle school, and high school.

Private Instructors for Tots

Our Private Instructors for Tots are ready to assist children (and sometimes a combination of both a parent and child) in the form of private language lessons. These sessions are typically with primer and elementary-school age students.

Group Instruction

Our group language instruction for children is open to the public and is offered in an activity-based, classroom setting. Whether it's singing a song in Spanish or having a chat with Lucia the puppet, children will have fun developing their listening, comprehension, and speaking skills in Spanish.

Daycare, Preschool, and Early Childhood Education Programs

Our language instructors travel to daycare centers, preschools, and other early childhood education centers to provide Spanish language instruction.

Practice your Spanish outside the classroom with the Langopoly™ Tour Program

Langopoly™ Tour is a language and cross-cultural program designed to gather people in real-world situations in order to practice speaking the Spanish language. We integrate Language Tour activities with our language classes, as well as Tour events that are open to the public.

How does Langopoly™ Tour work? Well let us tell you. We select the venue. You come and practice speaking Spanish. Easy, right? It doesn't matter if your vocabulary is limited. People with a range of language skills participate in the Langopoly™ Tour program. The bottom line: you'll benefit from the opportunity to practice speaking the Spanish language in a relaxed, social, real world environment.

Need help with translation or interpreter services?

Whether it's Spanish to English or English to Spanish, we got you covered.

Langopoly™ Translation Services prides itself on providing quality work, delivering projects in a timely fashion, and pricing a project in a way that is fair and reasonable to the client without compromising the integrity of what's needed to get the job done.

Langopoly™ Interpreter Services matches both technically competent and industry specific language professionals with the needs of an assignment.

How do clients use our interpreter services? For meetings, conferences, focus groups, etc.

Who are our interpreters? Fluent and Native Speakers

Examples of our services in action

Businesses and Government Agencies

Whatever the assignment -- training employees in Spanish, translating marketing brochures and web pages, or interpreting at consumer focus groups and executive seminars -- Langopoly™ continues to be the language service partner for business and government leaders.

Management Consultants

Management consultants know the secret to a project's success is not simply the technical expertise offered to their client. Rather, it is the ability of the consultant to partner with clients who represent diverse backgrounds and approaches to doing business. Langopoly™ language services provides an essential link to the management consulting equation.

Financial Service Providers

The customer base of financial service providers is located worldwide. Commercial bankers, asset managers, insurance agents and investment bankers need some familiarity with the language and culture of their customers. Langopoly™ understands this problem. We create innovative solutions to equip financial service professionals with the confidence to serve customers wherever a business opportunity may arise.

Legal Professionals

If it is a need for simultaneous interpretation or one-to-one “survival” Spanish language training, Langopoly™ provides the technical and professional expertise to meet the time-sensitive and confidential needs of the legal professional.

Health Care Providers

The ability to understand a patient's language and cultural background is critical in treating a medical condition. Langopoly™ provides a bridge to the challenges involved with providing quality patient care.

Travel & Entertainment Professionals

First and last impressions are especially important in the travel and entertainment (T&E) industry. Langopoly™ offers T&E professionals in restaurant, hotel and general hospitality roles the type of language and cultural awareness needed to develop and maintain a loyal customer base.

Educators

The policy issue of addressing the individual multilingual and multicultural learning needs of students and of equipping the teachers who train them is all the more challenging in public and private schools. The resources and capabilities of Langopoly™ enables our company to fill the gaps that exists in today's classrooms.

FAQs

How would you describe the Langopoly™ language learning experience?

Three elements comprise the Langopoly™ language learning experience:

1. Personalized Classes

Langopoly™ language instruction is generally structured in a group setting. (This does not apply to our private language instruction services.) The deliberately small size of the Langopoly™ learning group lends itself to a personalized learning experience and allows group members to interact and learn from each other.

2. Fun and Effective

Langopoly™ recruits talented language instructors to deliver the services of our company. Our instructors are not only technically competent in the language, but also they possess a passion for teaching and a desire to make a difference in the lives of others. This helps to ensure that our clients learn the language in a fast and effective manner.

3. Real World language Skills

Langopoly™ language instruction places an emphasis on the conversational use of a language. The curriculum is customarily shaped by the participants' interest and learning objectives.

Who leads Langopoly™ language programs?

A Langopoly™ language instructor leads our group programs and private instruction engagements.

What is the background of the instructors?

The diversity of backgrounds is what makes our instructors so unique and distinctive. Typically, they are either native or near-native speakers. A vast majority of them hold either a Master or Ph.D. degree in the language. We recruit instructors from leading colleges and universities, as well as both private and public secondary schools. Our instructors typically have traveled the world or, by virtue of their country of origin, are able to share their personal cross-cultural experience with participants. A common denominator that rests in all our instructors include: high energy, an excitement for teaching, and a shared value of serving our customers.

What is the philosophy at Langopoly™ on language study for children?

Here is our common belief: Children are naturally curious and consequently are able to quickly learn and retain a second language. Children who gain some familiarity with a second language find it easier to continue learning the language later in life. Children who are exposed to multiple languages are said to perform better on standardized tests, such as the SAT and ACT. These points alone are sound arguments to support "foreign" language study for children. Still, there are other considerations to encourage parents and academic administrators to expose children to the language and culture of others.

If we consider the world children live in today and will certainly encounter in the very near future, we find a community marked by rapid change and linkages among people of diverse backgrounds and cultures. Boundless global telecommunications and technology, changing world demographics, and booming worldwide travel are only a few factors shaping the social landscape of our world. With this dynamic as a backdrop, it is all the more important for our young adults of tomorrow to communicate in a second or third language.

The benefits of broadening one's language skills are tremendous and serve to open many doors -- today and tomorrow, at home and abroad, professionally and personally.
